Detailed Action

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment and accompanying Remarks filed 8-7-2003 have been entered and carefully considered.

The amendment is insufficient to overcome the obviousness rejections of claims 22,26-37 and 39.

2. The text of US code absent in this action can be found in a previous office action

3. Claims 22 and 26-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mormon '028' in view of US 6,129,801 to Benson et al as set forth in the previous office action.

4. Claim 39 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over (Mormon '028) in view of US 6,129,801 to Benson et al and US 5,554,143 to Roe et al as set forth in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

5. The Applicant alleges that intermediate mechanical fixing steps as taught by Benson represent additional processing over the present invention which can lead to an increased chance of changing the structure or damaging the fibers or nonwoven web. The Applicant's speculative reasoning is not found to be persuasive and cannot be given the weight of a declaration.

As best seen in section three of the previous office action, the Examiner used only two references as the basis for the inherency rejection of claims 29-35. The Applicant clearly understands that only two references were used in admitting that "only two references are under discussion..." Support for the use of only two references rather than three references is additionally found in the heading of section 3 of the previous office action. For this reason, a request for a further explanation of the inherency rejection of claims 29-35 is not found to be persuasive.

Per claim 39, in response to Applicant's argument that Roe teaches the desirability of using structural elastic-like film for a different reason than Applicant had contemplated, the fact that applicant has recognized another advantage which would flow naturally from following the suggestion of the prior art cannot be the basis for patentability when the differences would otherwise be obvious. See Ex parte Obiaya, 227 USPQ 58, 60 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1985).

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
